Summer Stuff 2

FOR ALL STUDENTS IN THE BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Good old summertime...

Sure, it's winter now... but summer is on the way, and the time to make your summer plans is NOW. Summer Stuff is the place to find summer schools, camps, programs, activities, and jobs. There are a lot of great things to do in and around Boston. You could take dancing lessons, learn to sail or play golf, act in a play, volunteer at a museum or homeless shelter, plan for college, get a job, intern in a science lab or on a farm, and go to free concerts and films. (You could even work on your math skills...)

Need ideas? Summer Stuff is full of good ideas. Read it through, circle the ones that interest you, and then visit their websites or call. They're waiting to hear from you. All of these programs can be found at PartnerBPS.org/summer. Use the search engine to find exactly what you want. Next, apply–now. Many programs are "first come/first served," and they fill up fast. In many cases, you can apply online or print an application from the website. Don't be put off by the cost of some programs. Many have scholarships or reduced fees based on what a family can pay, and they are looking for Boston students. Just ask! In fact, some programs are only for students who go to the Boston Public Schools. Good luck–and have a great summer!

Boston Public Schools' 5th Quarter District Summer Learning Programs

Did you know that students who attend summer learning programs could have an advantage going into the next school year? BPS has many summer programs targeted to all kinds of learners. Most programs are FREE–but only eligible students may attend. To find out if your child is eligible for one of these programs, ask his or her principal, guidance counselor, or teacher.

What to Look For in a Summer Camp or Program

After you have picked the camps or programs that work best with your schedule and would be most interesting to your child, get more information about them. Call each camp and ask a lot of questions.

Some questions to ask program and camp staff:

- Is the camp or program accredited or licensed? If so, by whom? If not, why not?
- What training does camp staff receive on safety, supervision, counseling, problem solving, and other issues unique to working with young children?
- Does the price include everything, or are there extra charges for transportation, food service, overnights, registration, clothing, etc.?
- If transportation is provided, what are the specifics?
- If before and after camp activities are offered, who is with the children and what will they be doing?
- Are there competitive activities (such as team sports)? Is your child comfortable with the level of competition?
- How can parents stay in touch with their children during camp? Are phone calls or e-mail allowed?
- How does the camp meet campers' special dietary or physical needs?
- Is there an open house before camp starts so parents can tour the camp and meet the director?
- Are there visiting days?

BOSTON CITY LIGHTS

The Boston City Lights Foundation is a free pre-professional performing and visual arts school for inner-city youth in Boston. Since 1979, this South End performing arts training center has offered an intense training program for children, youth, and young adults in dance, singing, acting, sound production, set design, and community participation and organization. Classes are offered seven days a week. Students have the opportunity to perform in both benefits and paid shows, to record their work in the BCL studio, and to learn to teach as interns. City Lights also offers training camps in Maine.

AMERICORPS NATIONAL CIVILIAN COMMUNITY CORPS

Are you looking for a job where you can serve the community in a meaningful way? If you are 18 or older, the National Civilian Community Corps (NCCC) may be for you. As a member of an NCCC team, you live away from home as you work on environmental projects, education, public safety, disaster relief, and other important jobs.

This is a 10-month commitment-not a summer job-and members must complete 1,700 hours of community service. But the benefits are great. NCCC provides training, housing, meals, medical coverage, child care, and uniforms to young adults ages 18-24 who are citizens or permanent residents of the U.S. Members live on NCCC campuses in Sacramento, CA; Charleston, SC; Aurora, CO; Perry Point, MD; Vicksburg, MS; and Vinton, IA. For their service, they earn a stipend and also get an education award for college, graduate school, or training programs.

CITY YEAR

City Year is a FULL TIME program whose mission is to help students reach their full potential and significantly increase the nation's high school graduation rate. This is an opportunity for 17- to 24-year-olds to work for 11 months with students in an elementary, middle, or high school in Boston (or in 25 other cities in the US) by being a tutor, mentor, and role model. The day of a City Year AmeriCorps member is spent tutoring students who are at risk of dropping out of high school, running after school programs, and supporting teachers in the classroom.

If you are accepted, you will be paid a biweekly stipend, receive basic health insurance, receive an MBTA pass, and earn a Segal Education Award (est. $6,000) when you complete the program. City Year alumni are also eligible for scholarships of 25%-100% of tuition for at over 190 participating colleges and universities.

JOB CORPS

Job Corps is the nation's largest career technical training and education program for people ages 16 through 24. Students can earn a high school diploma, a high school equivalency credential, or college credits through Job Corps.

Job Corps offers career technical training in more than 100 career areas. Students receive housing, meals, basic health care, a living allowance, training, and preparation for a career, all at no cost.

For up to 21 months after graduation, a career transition counselor will help you make the transition from Job Corps into the real world.

There are 125 Job Corps centers in the US, including three in Massachusetts, two in Connecticut, two in Maine, and one each in New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island. The Mass. centers are in Devens, Grafton, and Chicopee. After your initial training, you may qualify to transfer to another site for advanced training, to enter into union apprenticeships, or to take courses at a nearby college.

What if you've dropped out of school or have a physical disability? You may still be eligible. Just ask.

Plan ahead for college.

i ummer is a great time to learn about careers and colleges, and Boston has great (and air conditioned) places to do just that: American Student Assistance (ASA) College Planning Centers at the Boston Public Library in Copley Square and in many neighborhoods. They have everything you need to make career and college decisions: information on thousands of colleges, universities, and technical/vocational programs; counseling on choosing a school and paying for it; help completing admission and financial aid applications; computerized college, career and scholarship search systems; and much more. Help is available in several languages. And it's all free. Check their website for tons of resources.

If you go to the Boston Public Schools, you are eligible for financial aid and many scholarships. Every BPS high school has a uAspire advisor who can help you find funding for college. Contact uAspire at 617-778-7195 or visit www.uaspire.org re you planning to get a job this summer? Keep in mind that you must have an Employment Permit, sometimes called "working papers." The first step is to find an employer who is willing to hire you. Next....

How to get an Employment Permit.

IF YOU ARE 14 OR 15:

- 1. Get a white Promise of Employment Card from your guidance counselor/student support coordinator or your school's main office.
- 2. Take this card to your doctor's office or health center and have a doctor or nurse sign and date it. If you have not had a physical within the last year, make an appointment to have one. If you have had a physical in your school within the last year, your school nurse can sign and date the card.
- 3. Take this card to the prospective employer to fill out, sign, and date.
- 4. Take your Promise of Employment Card back to your guidance counselor/student support coordinator or main office and ask for an Employment Permit. It is also white, but larger than the Promise of Employment Card.
- Fill out the Employment Permit and have your parent or 5. guardian sign it on the back.
- Once your parent or guardian has signed it, bring the 6. completed Employment Permit to your employer.

IF YOU ARE 16 OR 17:

- 1. Pick up a yellow Educational Certificate from your guidance counselor. Have him or her fill it out and sign it.
- Return the Educational Certificate to your employer.

DURING SCHOOL VACATIONS AND THE SUMMER:

You can also get a Promise of Employment Card or Educational Certificate from any BPS Welcome Center or the BPS Office of Guidance Services. The Office of Guidance Services is located in the Boston Latin Academy building, 21 Deckard Street, Suite 3, Dorchester, telephone 617-635-8030. You must come in person and bring one of the following form of identification: birth certificate, social security card, passport, permanent resident card, learner's permit, driver's license, Mass. ID, Mass. health card, or student ID, health insurance card, or. Also, bring the name and address of your employer.
